

REBEL ROUND-UP BRINGS DEATH TO LEADER CARRASSO

Killed in Battle With Federal Forces in Durango

(By Associated Press) Mexico City, Nov. 10.—The round-up of the rebels who have menaced the power of President Obregon has now snuffed out the life of General John Carrasco, leader of the rebellious factions along the west coast and particularly in the state of Sinaloa. He was killed yesterday together with seven of his men in a battle with federal forces at Guamuchilito in the state of Durango. Not long ago it was understood that Carrasco was attempting to form a union with General Murguia, the rebel leader, who was captured and executed last week.

The announcement of the passing of Carrasco came to the war office last night from General Juan Torres, federal commander in the Durango region. The government soldiers surprised Carrasco and the remnants of his band of 35 men quickly scattered after a sanguinary encounter in which several were killed and five were taken prisoners, along with a quantity of military supplies. Federal troops are pursuing those who got away. General Torres reported that his casualties in the combat amounted to only two injured.

Quail Were Larks, Says Hamp Moody, Telling His Tale

"There wasn't a quail among the whole bunch of larks we shot while out training the dogs of Mr. Hilburn," said Hampton Moody this morning when questioned about the matter of the charge made against the two for illegal shooting. "We saw a lot of quail on the trip," he added, "but we never took the trouble to stop the car. We didn't want 'em."

Hampton Moody and S. J. Hilburn, were apprehended by W. M. Brown, of the sheriff's office, while "shooting quail," as expressed by the officer. Both Mr. Hilburn and Mr. Moody declare they were not shooting or hunting quail—being out merely for the purpose of training the dogs; but the apprehending officer informed Sheriff Hagan he was positive that he had the evidence that would show they were hunting out of season.

WHO OWNED PISTOL USED IN CARLETON CHRISTLER KILLING

Officials Puzzled Over Claims Regarding Weapon

(By Associated Press) Havre, Mont., Nov. 10.—An effort was made today to trace the pistol with which Rev. Leonard Jacob Christler and Mrs. Margaret Carleton were shot to death in the Christler home recently after the identification last night of the weapon by former Policeman C. J. Supday.

The revolver is said to be one used by John Jenkins, a client of Mrs. Carleton's husband, during an alleged assault in a pool room three years ago.

Ownership of the pistol, which was found in the hand of Mrs. Carleton was not determined at the coroner's inquest, which found that Mrs. Carleton had shot the preacher and herself.

Mrs. Joseph Pyle, of Bate, Mrs. Carleton's mother, said the weapon did not belong to Mrs. Carleton.

According to the police the dead woman's husband, Frank E. Carleton, acted as attorney for Jenkins at the time of the alleged assault, in 1919. Former officer Supday said that the pistol was taken from Jenkins by Jake Shockney, who turned it over to Sunday. He has not yet been able to account for the presence in the Christler home of the pistol, which he identified by number.

Sheriff Hagan told his deputy to "go ahead" and have the warrant issued if he was sure of the facts, and the warrant was to have issued this morning.

Up to the noon hour no complaint had been filed in the case in the county court. "Nothing has been sworn to before me in the matter," said J. C. Calhoun, county judge. "The complaint may have been sworn to before some justice of the peace. I do not know about that. However, if there is evidence that game has been shot out of season the complaint should be made before someone. That is a sure thing. If any man, I don't care who he may be, is convicted in my court of illegal shooting he will get a good stiff fine. The practice of hunting out of season should be stopped."

Col. Hilburn stated positively that he did not kill a quail nor did he shoot at one. "I am as much opposed to hunting out of season as anyone," said Col. Hilburn; "but every year I make it a practice to give my dogs, especially a young one, if I have one, some practice before the season opens. Anyone knows that

POTASH OF TEXAS BELIEVED ENOUGH FOR ALL DEMAND

Scientists Find Immense Bed Indications of Potash Salt

(By Associated Press) Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 10.—Potash beds large enough to supply the entire American demand for fertilizer and perhaps provide a surplus for export are likely to be discovered in western Texas, according to H. J. Hoots, now an instructor in the department of Geology in the University of Kansas. For the past year Mr. Hoots, as a member of the United States Geological Survey, carried on investigations in the prospective fields.

In a territory extending approximately 125 miles north and south and an equal distance east and west along the new Mexican border, strong indications have been found of what is perhaps the largest salt bed in the world. Surveys indicate approximately 15,000 square miles of prairie country underlaid with a bed of rock salt that ranges from 40 to 1,500 feet in thickness. This salt bed lies at a depth of 900 to 2,300 feet, making it convenient for mining operations. The conditions which are favorable to the formation of salt are favorable also to the formation of potash.

Four test wells are to be sunk this winter to get accurate figures about the underlying strata. One well already is under way and the core is being preserved to show the thickness of the different materials penetrated. If these test wells result as expected in showing the value of the salt deposits, other tests will be made to determine the limits of the field and the location of its richer parts.

Minor test wells at Means, River, Bryant, Burns, McDowell and St. Rita have produced the raw potash but not on a production basis.

"If this potash field proves what is expected," said Mr. Hoots, "it will mean that the United States has found an internal source which is needed so much not only as a soil fertilizer, but also in the manufacture of soap, glass, explosives and medical supplies. Comparatively little potash is now being obtained it is a good plan to fire a gun to accustom young dogs to the sound when he is in the field, and this is all we did. I believe Mr. Moody did take a shot at a lark, but so far as shooting birds out of season is concerned, it is ridiculous, especially among my friends who know how jealously I guard the game laws."

BATTLING SIKI IS DEPRIVED HONOR FOR NINE ROUND

French Sport Federation Refuse Him Fighting Privileges

(By Associated Press) Paris, Nov. 10.—Batling Siki, aspirant for the crown that sits upon Jack Dempsey's head, today was standing with reluctant feet where the champions and has-beens meet.

Last night the French boxing federation snatched away his title of light-heavyweight champion of France and suspended him from practicing his business in France for a period of nine months. Only a few hours before, the black conqueror of Georges Carpentier had stumbled into another block of hard luck the British home office forbidding his scheduled fight with Joe Buckett to take place on British soil. The action by the English authorities was taken because Siki is a colored man and Beckett is white, and it was deemed that "al sort of passions would be aroused" if the met in the ring. But the ban the French have put on Siki was caused by an overt act. Wednesday night, when acting as a second for Ercoe De Balzac, he jumped to the ring when his man was knocked out and struck the manager of the victorious battler, Maurice Prunier.

For Siki it may be that the worst is yet to come.

The boxing federation has now asked the international federation to deprive the Senegalese fighter of his title of world light-heavyweight champion, which he won from Georges Carpentier.

Under the federation's ruling last night, Siki during the next nine months, cannot engage in a boxing match, or act as a manager or a second in any bouts organized under the rules of the federation.

German Officer Accepted a Hunch of Clemenceau

Paris, Nov. 10.—Intimidation is a word missing from the otherwise large vocabulary of Georges Clemenceau. During the diplomatic incidents of Casablanca in 1908, the German ambassador cald on the "Tiger," then premier of France, and after adopting an uncompromising attitude, finally declared that if Germany was not given satisfaction, he would be compelled to demand his passports.

"The Berlin express leaves at nine; it is now seven o'clock," replied Clemenceau looking at his watch, "you'd better hurry or you'll miss it." The German ambassador did not leave, and the next day he informed the premier that Germany was satisfied.
